Brief Statement of Accident: Vehicle 1 was south on I-75, approaching Alexis when it went off the right side of the expressway for an unknown reason and struck the cement barrier. It then went airborne and struck a pole supporting the overhead signs just north of the Alexis overpass. At some point during this sequence of events, the driver was ejected from the vehicle. The vehicle caught fire after coming to rest under the overpass. The driver was taken to St. Vincents Hospital with serious injuries. I-75 South was shut down for several hours while ODOT crews repaired the overhead sign.
